

NOBODY EXCEPT YOU

When it began, and all were brought together;

When we began, and all the tests were stacked high;

Nobody was paying attention.

When progress was met, and cheerful hearts cried;

When failure was met, and all our spirits died;

Nobody was paying attention.

“Feed it more. Feed it less,

Let it scream. Let it rest.”

All eyes pointed to our friend in its nest, but

Nobody was paying attention.

When in the darkest abyss hope was extinguished;

When in the emptiest hollow no end was in sight;

Nobody was paying attention.

Except you.

When I spoke to you, when I spoke to you,

And you listened, you listened.

You paid attention.

And I cherished that deeply;

Deeper,

Than any Deepwell.