

ABRIDGED AFTER-ACTION REPORT OF OPERATION BLACK DOVE (PART 1)

Given Briefing by Omega-1 Commander:

Pay attention, ladies. We're heading to Site-17. Minnesota's quite chilly right now, so make sure you're wearing appropriate gear.

(Murmuring can be heard in the background and clothes shuffling.)

Flagged Asset is Director Thomas Graham, the bigshot himself. Seems like he's been biting off more than he can chew, and the suits in Ethics want him arrested. He's been pardoned in a tribunal before with a 'not guilty' verdict, but something serious must've come up afterwards for us to be sent there. So it's going to look ugly... for him.

(Some laughter can be heard from the troops.)

His survival is mission-critical. We want the guy alive, for a fair trial or whatever. Now that's not gonna be easy, and subtlety will not be our friend today. Squads will be split off to enter through all the different entrances, we need a show of force, so masks on. Team One will ask around for Target's location, really shake them up and frighten them into telling you. The rest of the teams will seal off all exits to prevent an escape. The place is crawling with Reality Benders ready to explode, so each team is equipped with an SRA unit in case things get nasty.

Thaumist section will split up and integrate themselves into the squads, just to provide protection with their magic spells in case enemy warlocks appear, or whatever it is you Blues do.

(More laughing is audible.)

Quick and easy. We're 15 minutes from landing, put on your game faces.
