

SITE-17 CAFETERIA - AUDIO RECOVERED FROM EMBEDDED MICROPHONE

Sylvia: You're really going to eat that?

Lindsey: It's edible, isn't it?

Sylvia: I would have thought that you have a greater appreciation of good food.

Lindsey: I don't know what that means and I'm not going to ask you to elaborate.

Sylvia: They call this a "Cuban sandwich"? It looks like somebody stepped on a McMuffin.

Lindsey: That doesn't sound so bad.

(Both chuckle.)

Lindsey: You know, all things considered, the food here isn't that bad. Jerome is a vegan, and he's a fan of it.

Sylvia: I wouldn't consider Jerome Howell a fair judge of good cuisine.

(15 seconds pass.)

Lindsey: What's your secret?

Sylvia: Secret?

Lindsey: You know. How do you do it? All this work you do.

Sylvia: One day at a time. Just like you and everyone else.

Lindsey: Do you have a real answer?

Sylvia: No, I'm serious. That's what my mother taught me. Sometimes life gives you periods where it feels like you're drowning from everything you need to do all at once. Take things one at a time, and everything will come together naturally.

Lindsey: She sounds like a good mom.

Sylvia: And you? How about yours?

Lindsey: Good, I think. Still living in Baltimore. I don't talk to her as often as I should.

Sylvia: Why's that?

Lindsey: I don't think she... approves of what I do.

Sylvia: Working as a medical professional?

Lindsey: No, no. She's incredibly glad about that. She probably won't approve of or understand...

Sylvia: Hm?

Lindsey: ...don't worry about it. Family stuff. How's your family?

Sylvia: My parents are still in Havana.

Lindsey: They're not planning on moving here with you?

Sylvia: I don't think it will be good for them to be here.

Lindsey: Fair.

Sylvia: They're doing fine there. They're safe.

Lindsey: I love that for you.

(15 seconds pass.)

Lindsey: Howell said he and the others are going out tonight for drinks.

Sylvia: Is Goode coming?

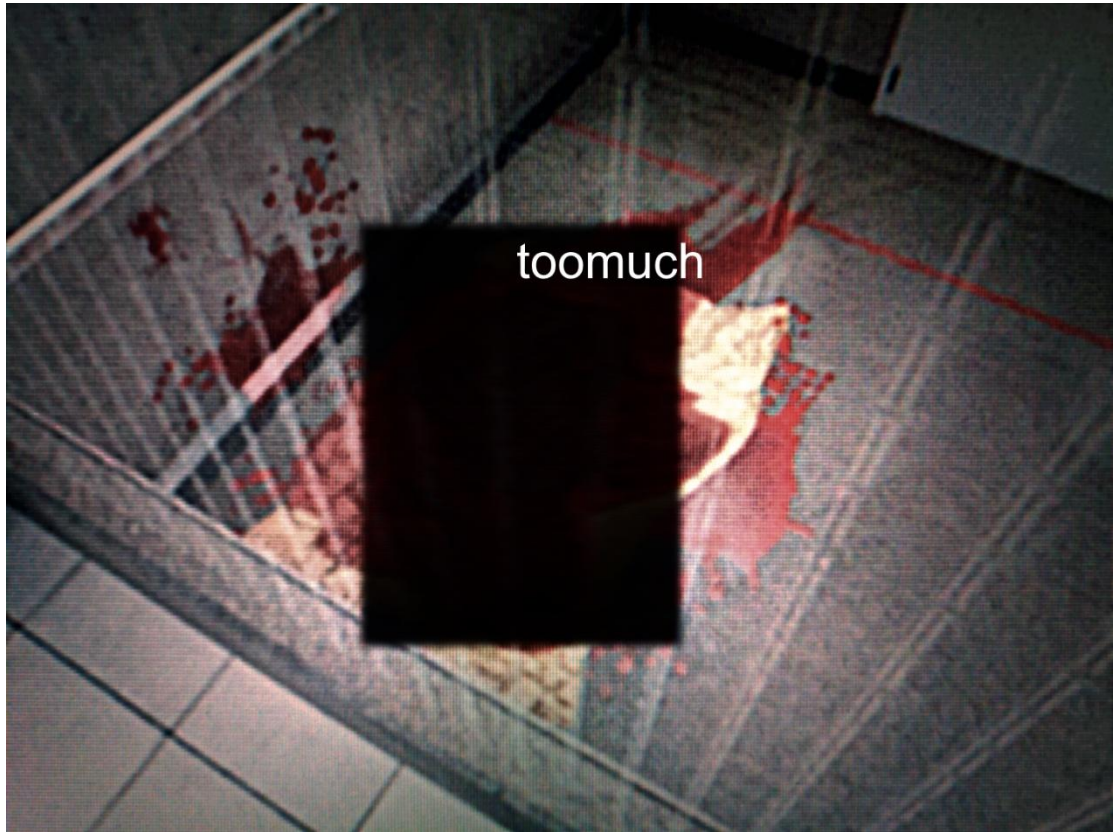

Lindsey: Hah. Of course not. You coming?

Sylvia: You know what? I will.
