

KOH//ENTRY2/C34-TK998-G

Goode needs to understand that everyone working under him are people, too. Today he scolded Howell in front of the entire team for mistiming a command. Dr. Santos tried to step in but only got an earful in return.

I don't like how disrespectful he is. Someone needs to teach him to be more humble.

Recorded via embedded microphone. Transcribed via Class-I Reactive Intelligence.

Participants:

- Dr. Lindsey Koh | Medical Supervisor
- Dr. Sylvia Santos de Pilar | Chief Scientist

[BEGIN LOG]

Dr. Koh: You okay?

(Dr. Santos flinches in her seat at the sudden question.)

Dr. Santos: Me?

Dr. Santos: Yeah, I'm doing fine. You?

Dr. Koh: I'm doing fine as well, Dr. Santos. How did you find today's test?

Dr. Santos: It was good.

(Dr. Koh purses her lips.)

Dr. Koh: Dr. Santos, what Assistant Director Goode said to you earlier—

Dr. Santos: Don't worry about that, Doctor.

Dr. Koh: —was not in any way acceptable.

(Dr. Santos swivels her seat to face Dr. Koh.)

Dr. Koh: I respect that you stood up for Howell.

Dr. Santos: He's just a kid, relatively speaking.

Dr. Koh: Is Dr. Goode always like that?

Dr. Santos: You get used to it.

Dr. Koh: You do?

(Dr. Santos smiles reluctantly.)

Dr. Santos: No, not really.

Dr. Santos: Koh, right? Where are you from?

Dr. Koh: Baltimore. What you obviously want to hear though is Korea. My family is from Korea.

Dr. Santos: I don't know how it is in Baltimore, Dr. Koh, but we Cubans have tough leather.

Dr. Koh: Must be good at making shoes then.

Dr. Santos: No, that's not—I mean that we're resilient. I suppose the expression gets lost in translation.

(Dr. Santos picks up her clipboard off the desk and stands up.)

Dr. Santos: It's about time we sign off and say goodnight to our friend here. How are they holding up?

(They both look down toward the containment chamber through the observation window.)

Dr. Koh: Vitals are normal. It's resilient, that's for sure. Do you think it's also Cuban?

(Dr. Santos snaps her head toward Dr. Koh and smiles, genuinely this time.)

Dr. Santos: Watch it, Dr. Koh.

Dr. Koh: Lindsey.

(Dr. Koh extends her hand. Dr. Santos takes it.)

Dr. Santos: Sylvia.

[END LOG]

Y