Starting Point:

The ARG all started with some 'Amazing' Acting on the dev stream, when O79 breached the stream.
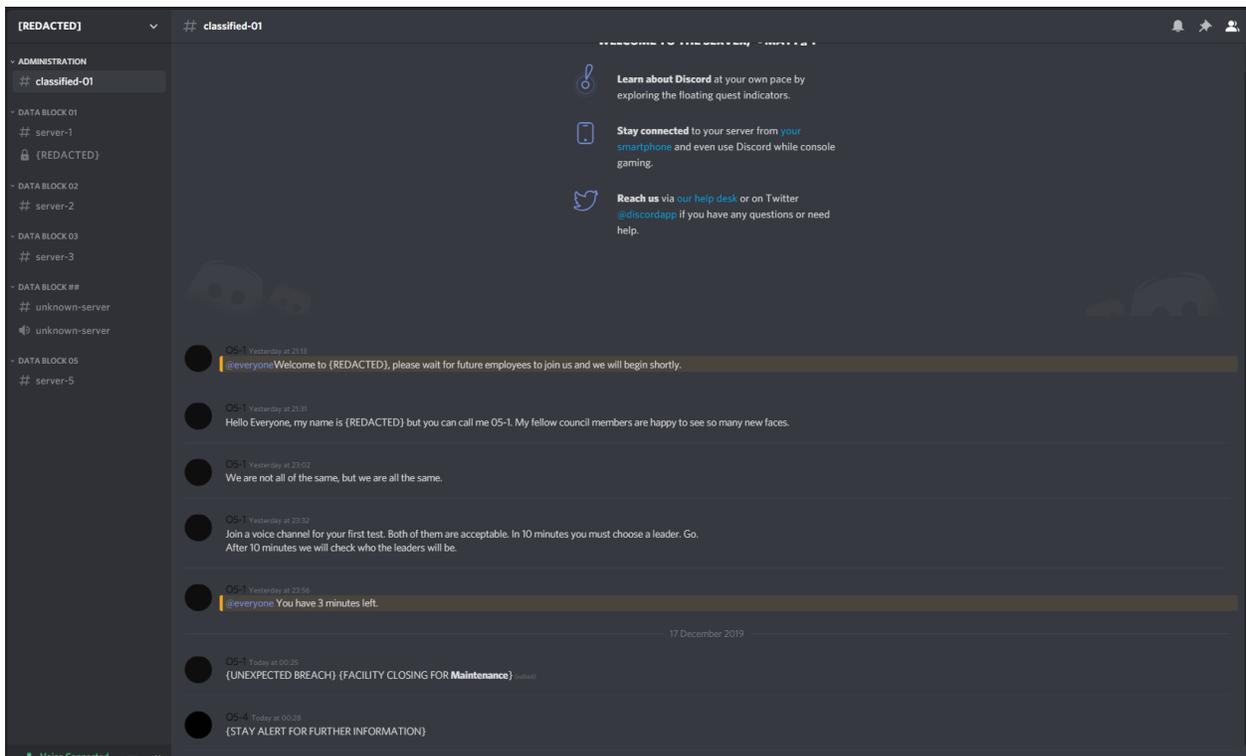

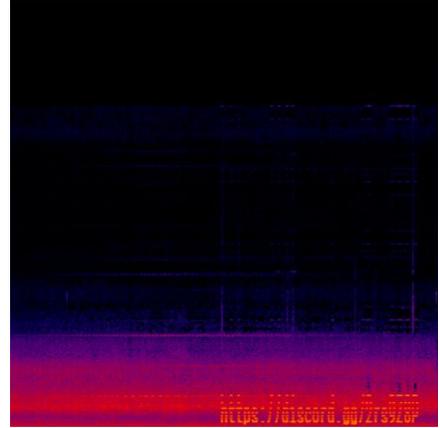

At this time, the stream was ended and a raid took place sending the viewers over to another stream.

Following the acting from the SCPSL team, the game was given an update to add this audio to 079's chamber.
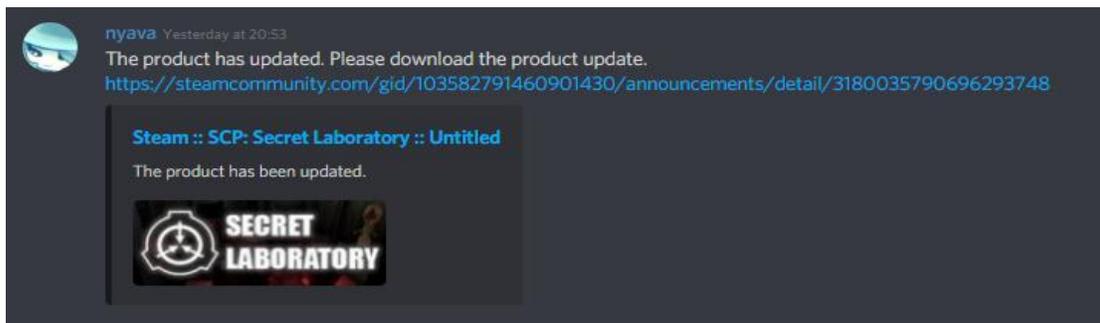

The Audio was put through a spectrograph and the following discord link was found.

The Discord link was a discord server called [REDACTED]

Day 1:

The Discord:

This discord has 5 Administrators:

O5-1
O5-2
O5-3
O5-4
O5-69
Security Chief Theta did not appear until around day 2

O5-69 was the one that stood out, first there is no O5-69, additionally they had the additional role of "bad" and their proper discord ID is a string of numbers.

These numbers when decoding in a Hex to Text converter become "Watcher".

Whilst this was being solved, O5-1's status changed to "Y\̊gxIz".
And Later changed to: N{Ib(

Initial contact with O5-1:

O5-1 Joined the Voice call at approximately 21:30 GMT and started playing morse code to the listeners.

----- .---- ----- ----- ----- .---- ----- -----   ----- .---- .---- ----- .---- .---- .---- .----   -

- .---- .---- ----- .---- ----- ----- .----   ----- .---- .---- .---- ----- .---- ----- -----   -----

Upon translation of the morse code noted above, the below result was observed:

01000100 01101111 00100000 01111001 01101111 01110101 00100000

01101001 01110100 00111111 (note that question marks were in place between all number sets.)

(This Binary was also posted in the "Server-1" Channel by O5-3 shortly after the morse code at 21:40 GMT for our convenience I guess)

The translation from Binary reached the below result:

"Do you think they will make it?"

O5 - 4 replies with the binary below:

01001001 00100000 01101000 01100001 01110110 01100101 00100000
01101000 01101111 01110000 01100101 00101110
("I have hope.")

O5-1 also repeated this binary at the same time.

After this O5-1 rejoined the VC and started playing more morse code

- .... .   --.- ..- .. -.-. -.-   -... -. --- .-- -.   ..-. --- -.- -   .--- ..- -- .--. ...   --
- ...- . .-.   - .... .   .-.. .- --.. -.--   -.. --- --.

Which translated into:

the quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog.

Soon after 05-69 Changed its name and status to the following at 23:32 GMT:

This Cipher looked to be very close to a website URL, so the cipher team got onto cracking it.
The First solution was a Shift Cipher, which was immediately disproved by members of the cipher community that assumed it was a link.

See if it was a shift cipher HTTPS:// would encode into a ciphertext Respembing ABBCD://, however in this ciphertext Letter 2 and 3 are different.

The Cipher Team thought it could be a Vigenere cipher, and soon it was solved to be:

https://imgur.com/a/r5UJzXZ

A link to a Qr code which read:

I am not the same, the others are... ##### DO NOT ##### THEM

It is widely assumed the full message reads:
I am not the same, the others are… fakes DO NOT TRUST THEM

The Breach of Server 2

Beginning of the Tests

O5-1 Posted a new message

O5-1 Yesterday at 22:27
Tests begin after the application phase, please leave this area.
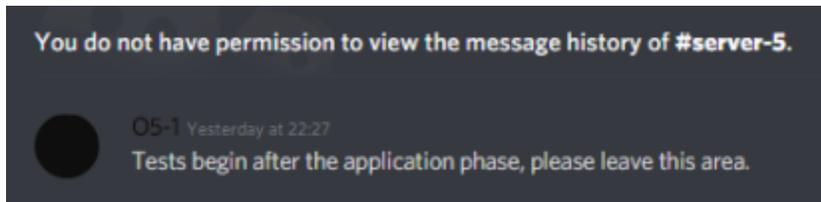

Some members of the community were dragged into a private VC with O5-1, where it is noted that O5-1 Breathed into his microphone.
Later, a new Voice Channel was created, and the community was split.
Two Leaders were needed to be Chosen.

The First Team chose " 『Matt』#6776" for his contribution to solving the Vigenere Cipher.
The Second team chose "1080p Cat#1080" as he was one of the people who were moved into the private VC.

The two team leaders were given the following role

Team 1 - Leader 『Matt』
『Matt』#6776

ROLE

● Will you?

GREEDY VICTORS—24

---079 is g.oin-g. to [R...

O5-Fish

O5-Pugii
˘w˘
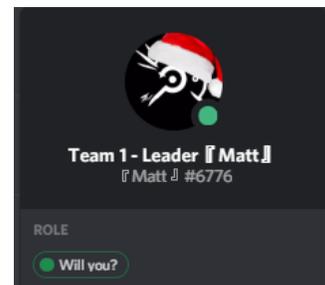

Later, O5-1 announced a test between two teams (25 each side), with each deciding a leader. There was then a test of morals. "In front of you is a bag of money. If none of you take it, no one dies. If one takes it, the other dies. If both take it, both die." The leader of Team 2, 1080p Cat, chose 'take,' unlike the other team, surviving the test, and gaining the role of "Greedy Victors"

Profile Picture Examining

O5-69's profile picture changed to a highly compressed unknown object with faint dots nearby. Upon further inspection, the picture could be brightened to reveal more dots, in which it was noticed the dots formed a sort of Christmas Tree.

Upon a reverse google search, a christmas tree made of "cats" could be found online.

O5-1's image was found to not be fully black, having some lighter spots on it.
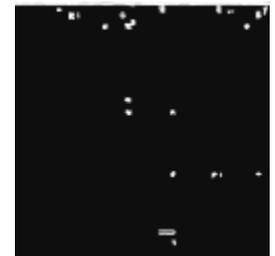

O5-1's interaction with the ARG followers has risen.
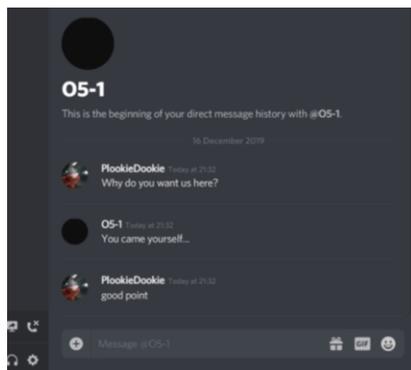

Public Freakout

After the tests, the O5s began to talk to each other as a group in a chat named "{REDACTED}". The ARG followers had nothing to do and started attempting to solve whatever the hell was happening before. For one, a glossed over detail was O5-2's profile picture. It changed to something that was red, creepy, and cryptic. Many assumed this was related to "Garden Horse" or "Sleepwalker" SCPs. [We don't know what it was related to yet]

After a short while. Teams 1 and 2 were forced into a unified chat which started a panic. After everyone was transferred, a select few ARG followers (Notably ones who were specially ranked in the SCP:SL Discord in some way) were dragged back and forth between the voice channels {REDACTED} and the one already being used by the majority. This started the "Patience is a Virtue test".

05-1 joined the chat and told us that a select few people were going to get a DM. Each person in question had received a "code". This code different very slightly between all code wielding members. Originally, most kept quiet about gaining a DM, though a small few (Ender) were very open and started using their knowledge and power to figure out what to do.

This started about 00:20 GMT and every decided to hold out on sharing till 01:00 GMT (Times seem a bit off can someone fix this for me, not my strong suit). In this time the group has a lot of time to bounce ideas off each other, with the conclusion that we should trust 05-69 above the others. The 05s seemed to have gone offline around 00:40 but they could've just been invisible.

During the freakout, the O5 council posted some new morse code:

-.. .-. . .- -- ...

.-.-.- .-.-.- .-.-.-

..

.-- .. .-.. .-..

-... .

.-- .- - -.-. .... .. -. --.

Which translates to: Sweet Dreams I will be watching

O5-3 soon followed with:

thedeadman theway thebeacon thecollector

An Hour later, with the freakout over, and the secret codes being revealed. OS-3 made an announcement:

The Unknown-server chat was then made read only, and progress was halted until the following morning.

The Test

At 4:30PM O5-1 joined the recording studio and played a set of musical notes.

Soon after Matt, Noot Jesus and Jedi Master Sinon were taken to a Redacted.

Matt was told to not share his information.
Noot Jesus and Jedi Master Sinon were told that "Patience is a Virtue"

Noot Jesus became a Puppet of a Puppet

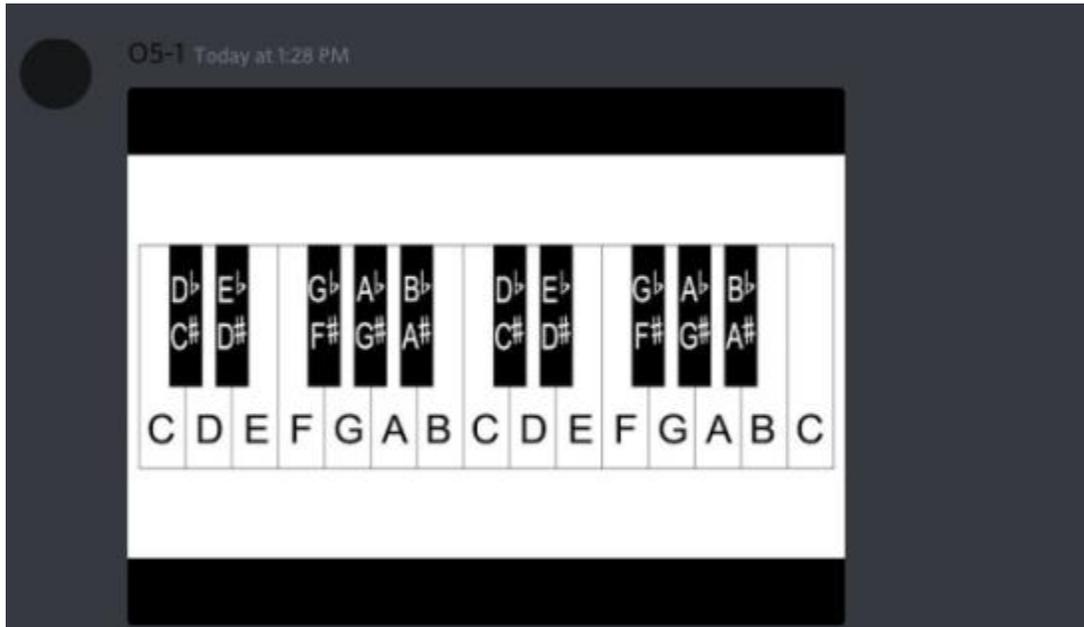

Matt became a cult leader

The Notes stumped us:

O5-69's Return

O5-69's came online with a new avatar, this time a QR code was found in the top.

Scanning it lead to the following link: javrj://yvygcdgdsg.efs/yectp. As this was a cipher of sorts, O5-69 put the following 2 clues in their discord status as a clue.

57617463686572#0437

Some things in life are deemed "Unlucky" like my favourite number "13"

Some things in life are deemed "Unlucky" like my favourite number "13" and "31" as its the "same" but different

As such, a ROT13 and a Vignere cipher of key "Puppet" revealed the link:

https://streamable.com/wxary

(It is also of note that the video that the link leads to is 31 seconds, a number referenced in O5-69's clues)

The following is a transcription of the video:

Reversing the last 4 seconds of the clip also reveals:

(Mysterious Person) Let the Countdown Begin

Wingdings in the video reveal the following code:

"site online waiting puppet countdown Starting in #####() wait further instructions"

After "The Puppet" 『Matt』 performed the countdown, the following appeared in the discord.

O5-3's message was soon deleted(Presumably by O5-69)

Day 3:

Day 3 was a little different than the others. Everyone was on a bit earlier than usual and everyone was forced to wait 1-2 hours for the ARG to really start. The only "important" people on the server were Chief of Security: Theta and O5-3. Everyone started interacting with Theta. Once people realised that we would have to wait longer than we thought, the group started playing games like scrible.io and cards against humanity for the remaining hour and a half. Funnily enough, Theta joined for scribble.io.

The Questions

The official day began with a message from a new chat named "unknown-user-ender4488" from 05-69 who asked Ender if he was ready. Once ready, 05-69 says that he wanted to play a game. Due to Ender not being able to point out his favorite game. He decides to ask some questions.

05-69 Today at 3:36 AM

O5-69 Today at 3:30 AM

O5-69 Today at 3:32 AM

O5-69 Today at 3:32 AM

FAILURE Today at 3:33 AM

O5-69 Today at 3:33 AM
Why?

This is at this point -69 asked if Ender liked his drawing. He then asked if he trusted "his fellow persons". Ender was then asked to elect one person to be the groups voice. As a result, Matt was chosen and asked to guess a letter.

The real game began.

Hangman.

As soon as everyone realised the stakes of the game, people started thinking about what letter would be first. Some pointed out that the 2 letter part would most likely have an 'i'. This gave 3 slots. 'E' was chosen next due to the first word most likely ending in it. Resulting in:
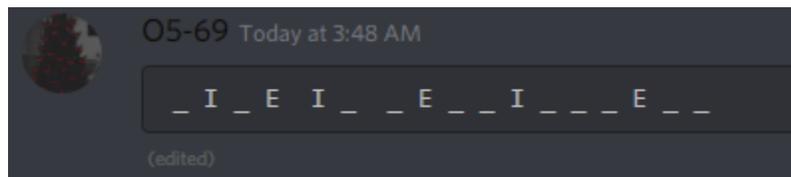

It was decided that the word was "Life is Meaningless", finishing the first round

At this point, the amount of people talking at once was starting to cause a problem. People had carefully planned out words but would sometimes just get swept over by the volume. The next few guesses went as follows

[I, A, E,]. this created I A _ A _ _ _ _ E _. Everyone thought this to me "I am a puppet". But this was incorrect, losing Ender an arm.

A few guesses later we were left with. {I am a mu_ _et}. We guessed "P", O5-69 tried to make change matt change his decision, but it was decided. Letting ender win one more round.

The next word was "The Alphabet" and was uninteresting so we won't elaborate.

The next round was quite interesting.

This word was

34 letters long, we think it was "supercalifragilisticexpialidocious" due to the guess "e" lining up. We don't know though because O5-69 got "bored of the word".

The finale word created:
"ADD REMOVE SACRIFICE"

Matt was asked to chose one. This was by far the most split decision in this test. In the end Matt chose 'Remove', judging by the result, it was not the best answer.

It should be noticed that an image posted earlier by the O5's suggest enders body fills one of these holes
"Art"

After the "freeing" of ender, a new channel was created named #Art-gallery at approximately 12:26. O5-69 then told everyone to "post their art", unsurprisingly, this lead to people posting a lot of memes. A LOT of memes.

This was quickly shut down by O5-69 who then stated:

O5-69 Today at 12:28 PM
I guess you can not be trusted
A shame

Some of you found what todo

It was then revealed that users had to assemble an image created from emotes, assembled, it revealed this:

O5-69 Today at 1:06 PM

finish without insult

The delay.

Due to us taking upwards of 3 hours on a puzzle that was meant to take 30 minutes, the admins of the server presumably were unsure whether to continue the plan for the day. We had been online for 5 hours already. Security Chief Theta was updating their status with messages like "contacting 05", getting point that they were discussing. But eventually 05-3 came on and gave us our next task.
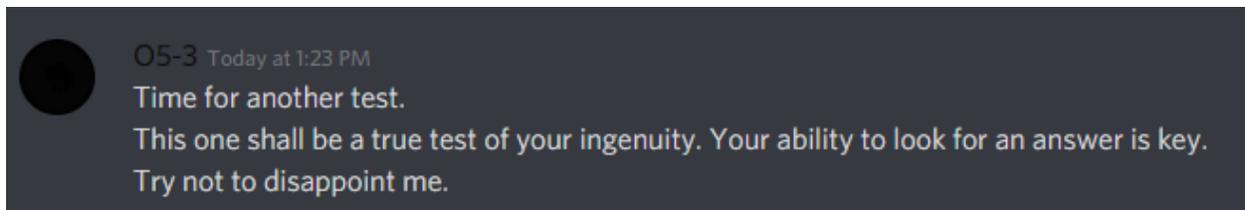

The Poems

About an hour and a half of memes and discussion about the tests given to the group by O5-69, the Data Block 01 section of the server was updated:
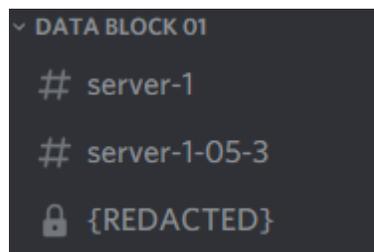

With Data Block 01 adding the new channel, another encrypted message was revealed in #server-1-O5-3:

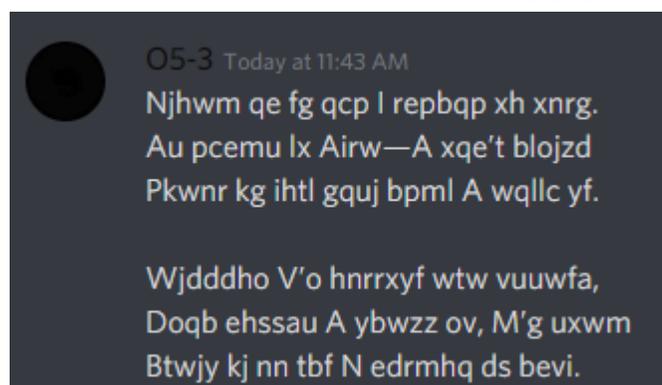

A minute later, a message came up in #classified-01:

And with that, the group began to make attempts at deciphering the first encryption.

The First Poem.

As the encryption process began, it was made clear that the specific type of cipher was a Vigenère cipher and that the group needed a specific key in order to decrypt it. This was made clearer to the rest of the group as O5-3's status changed accordingly:
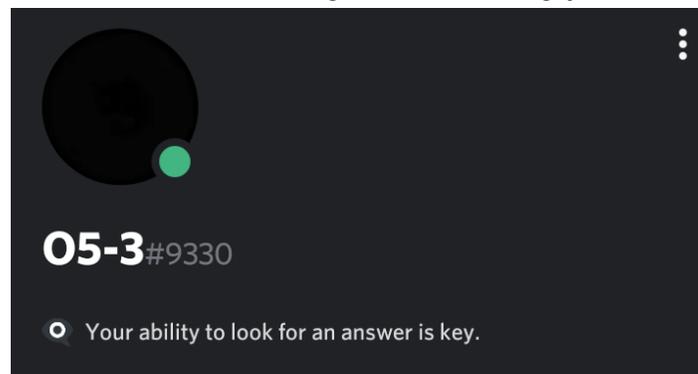

Attempts were made to brute force the encrypted text, but with no such luck. However, one specific key came up with the brute force method that laid down the basis for what the group was looking for:

With these hints posted publicly in #unknown-server, the group began to speculate that the hint may lie in one of SCP SL's social media sites. A few quick google searches later, the group stumbled unto SCP SL's twitter page, with the following image posted only minutes prior:

Although somewhat readable, the group brightened up the image to get the following:

The group put together each of the lines of letters with the previous brute forced line of letters to get the following:
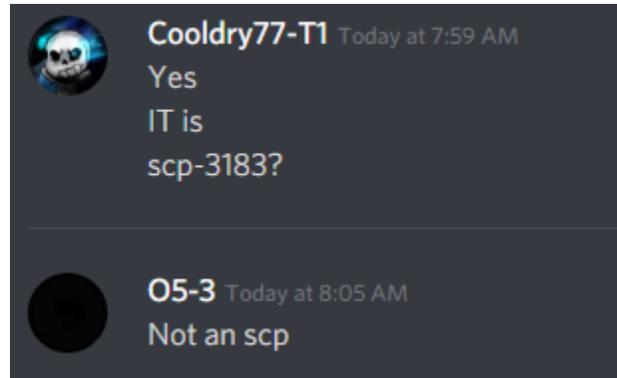

UCDFIIMSSUCRAZXBHFMWDSWNCOWNRE

Plugging this in as the key for the decrypted text revealed the finished version of the text. O5-3 responded promptly to the finished product:
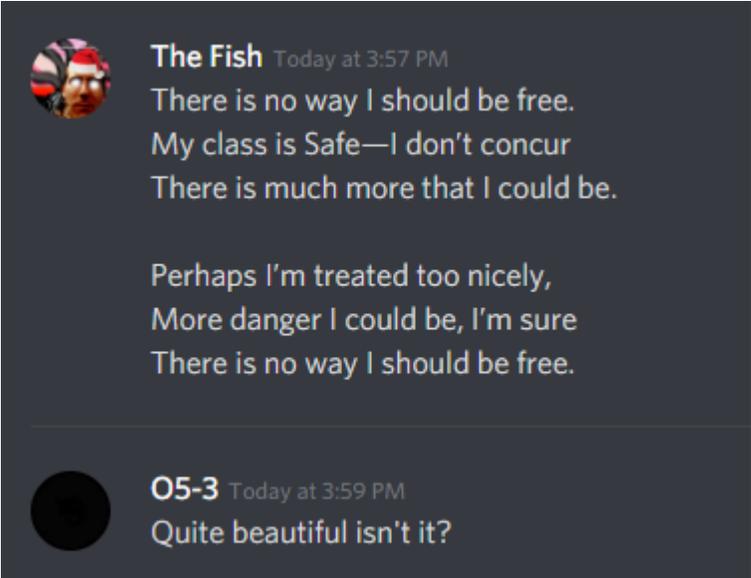

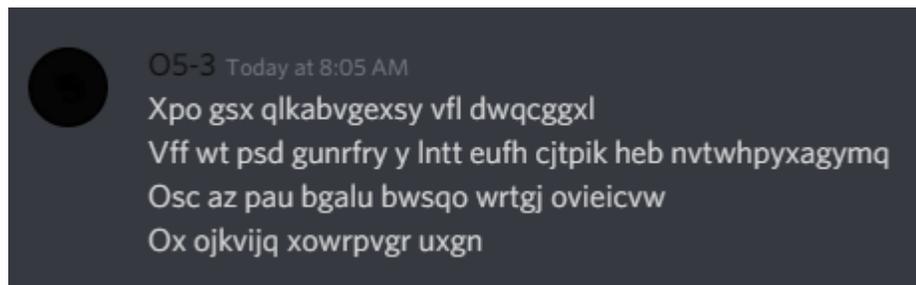

However, that was not the end of the task. O5-3 requested a name in correlation to the decrypted text. The groups first move was checking the scp wiki for safe class objects with this theme or piece inside.

People started to message 05-3 different scps, but they all got the same answer. We were not supposed to be looking for an scp. Someone found a list of poems for different scps on the wiki through a goggle search, and with it they found the exact quote in a poem called "Into That Good Night". 05-3 accepted the answer and not long later #server-2-O5-3 was created and with it the next poem.

Poem puzzle number 2 started at 21:05 Gmt
People instantly started searching all of SCPSL's social media again, before anyone found it some people of the cipher team left the {REDACTED} sever call and joined our own server one. This was due to it being easier to focus in a quieter place. The next keys were found on a Facebook post though these didn't work by themselves. The group as a whole was stuck, they tried all orders, back to front, even Caesar cipher didn't work! (WHO WOULD HAVE THOUGHT?)
Eventually 05-3 gave us the method to solve it.

O5-3 Today at 8:45 AM
We are the first key.
That key is used on the current scrambled letters to get a second bunch.
The codes are the second key.
to be used on the results of the first.

Help your friends
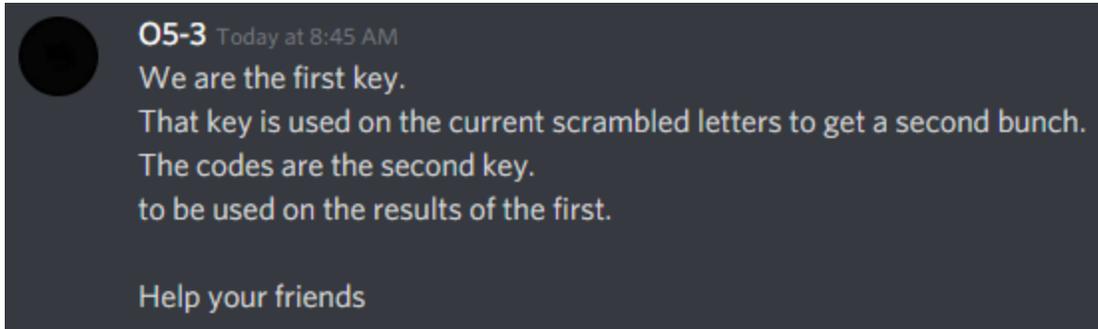

This meant we put code into a vigenere with the word "northwood"(We overlooked the NW logo in the post).Then we put the keys into a vigenere cipher

"A World Unto Yourself" is the poem this comes from.

The finale poem was said to be easier, but we have no clue how we were meant to do it due to WingwooGaming. They were brute forcing each code (It was legal) and this time their program decoded the whole phrase in 0.37 SECONDS.

The stanza was

The day in total took around 9 Hours

Day 4:

The wait for this day was extra long, and extra 6 hours from when something would usually happen. The only thing they had to let them know something was happening was Security Chief Theta's status changing sometime within the wait, All attempts to speak to him were failures.

The Big Picture

After the long wait, The O5's came on and gave us our test, followed by mentioning this test will be hard.
(This entire image was a red herring, this just describes the steps taken)
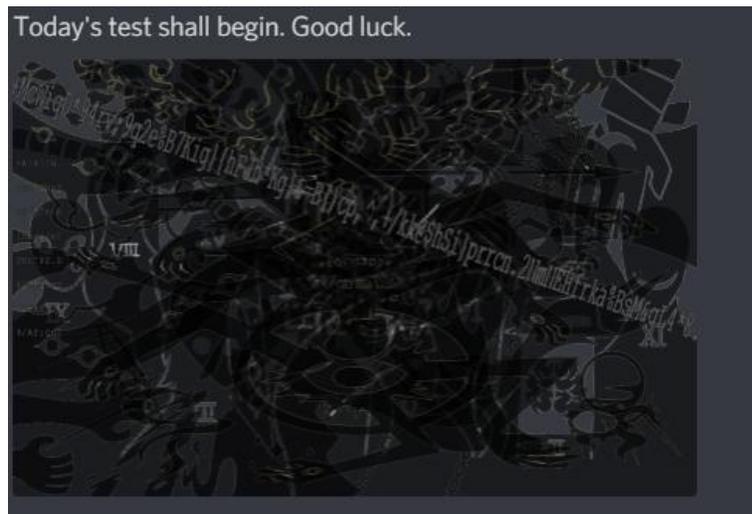

Everyone got to work on trying to recognize features within this image. Once people got familiar, it was clear that this image had multiple different things going on at once and as such, people split naturally into teams for 1 aspect. Please also note that this might be confusing because there were multiple things going at once.

Cracking the (Qr) Code

After some investigation, it was noticed that a QR code was visible, naturally, people attempted to crack it.

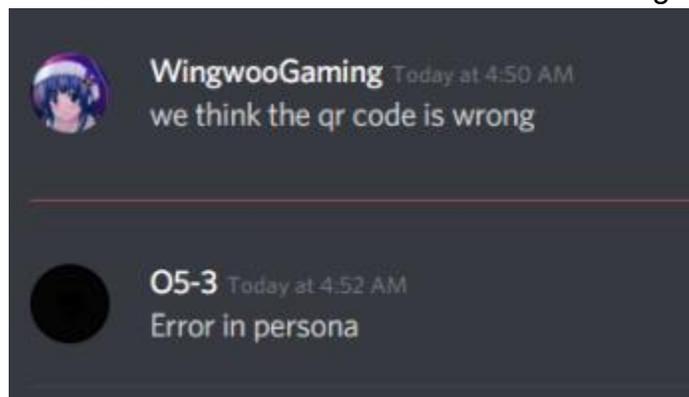

Some progress was made with deciphering this, however, it clearly became evident that this was a red herring as Matt pointed out how the QR code didn't properly follow the basic rules of QR code encoding.

Not the same size

Improper Timing Pattern
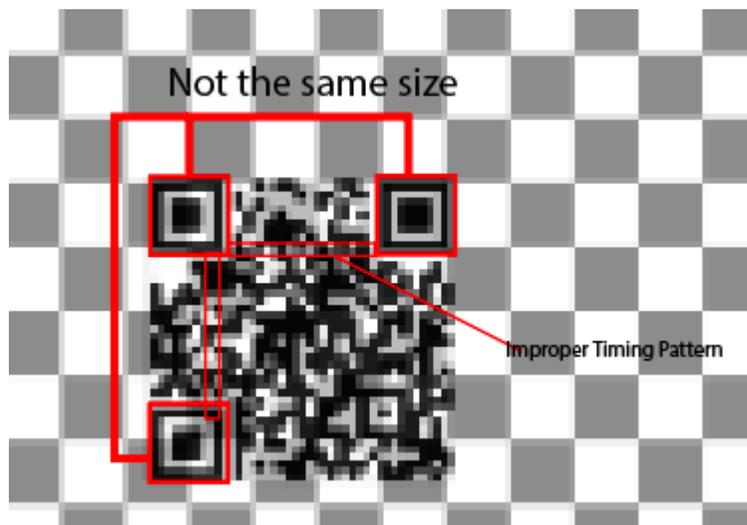

(Clear QR code obtained from @7Shved#7290)
Effectively, these inaccuracies made the code unusable, thus proving matts point.

The O5's even confirmed this with this message:

WingwooGaming Today at 4:50 AM
we think the qr code is wrong

O5-3 Today at 4:52 AM
Error in persona

O5

With nothing else to be done about the QR code, people started looking for an alternate solution, after searching for a while, people discovered that one of the overlaid images was strikingly similar to an artwork of the 05 figures.
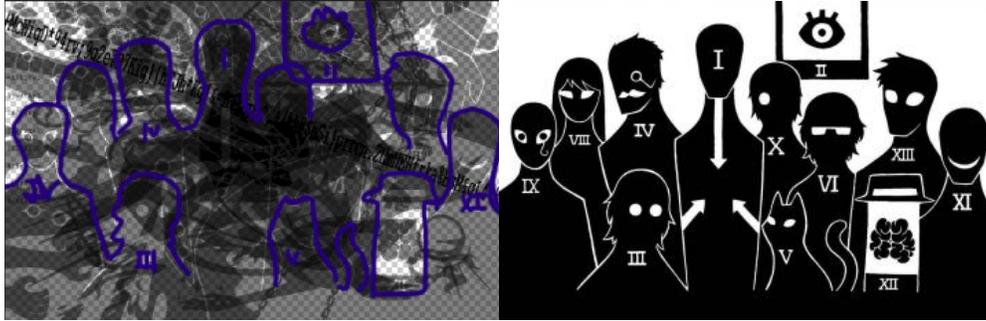

Eventually, @Dino Gazz#5717 figured out that by placing the image from #site-activated over this image, it would reveal the following,
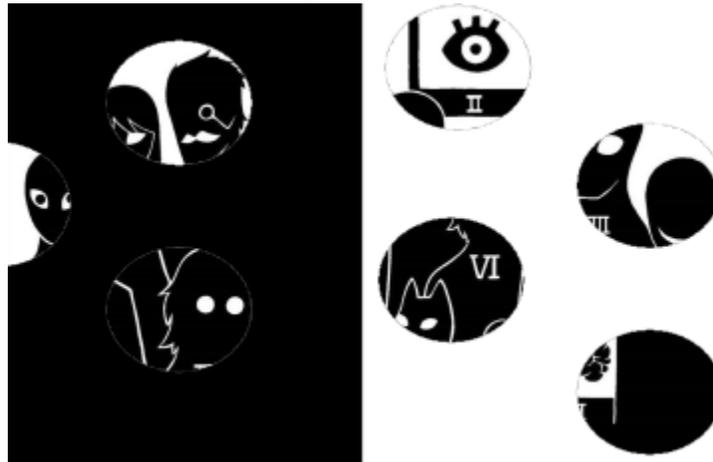

People thought this would reveal something, but once again, this was a red herring.

The scarlet king

Eventually, a user discovered that by flipping the image, the scarlet king could be seen. This was quickly debunked by the 05's who said,

Jackal Today at 19:26

The group quickly identified that this was most likely a hex code, the only issue being that the letters went unusually far into the alphabet. 05-69 Then made the word 'Key" bold giving us a tiny hint. This lead to some realizing that we needed to put this into a vigenere cipher with the key "Theta", the one we lost that day. This gave us a hexadecimal string that was readable and translated to

"avv t oh jrqotdntfk mts o qsxp nblfqi hg ccqwgsvi. if inym otot zexw rv dnjs hcg vv zgohs edqm ao sgfhm bhq fg ezun hepyimyd. wzx ohyr cuc ogsp nunf oi zhbc ae gjxq icg, cpf zcwmepnffr bcqy mfzb lqy nyv hjfad qb rem oqayvcft bzmjh eme jxss fgjy vaqe pxq rlliii jz avy glvi bm zlx vwab efcx rrf cxcw erch qgsjocpck."

Note to all adding to the document:

Please timestamp where possible and use Header (heading3 format) to separate sections. (formatting headers is for jumping purposes and so we know where we're going)

Day 5:

A new Devlog came out for SCP:SL, in this video at 3:31
https://youtu.be/cM7OEU7LCuE?t=211 User Jackal noticed text in the top right corner. This was found to be Base64 linking to another video posted by Archival Mind: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sulIIiJLgEk

With this, the mini event day 5 was complete.

25/04/2020

Day 6:

During a QA stream on the official scp_sl game, the title was updated to
'72bae8f7ec745abf0477cb2c40d378d8f0384f92e5f119bcbd4fa83970f593b19 b206d97d9538f7711ef5ae230e60c74' after many many many hours of struggling, this was solved by Matt. Using a RC2 Cipher with key of 069, given in the "another dimension" channel descriptions, the following plaintext was uncovered:

'The pages are amiss, the book is left open.'

Following this, O5-69 posted in a new channel within the ARG server:

This concluded the mini-event of day 6.

Day 7(Kinda Like a month tho ngl):

In the month of October the [Redacted] server had all of it's channels missing, with a single one visible, titled "Rose".
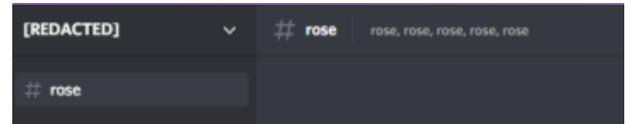

Over the course of this time, the Server icon changed to 4 stages of dots. We stitched the groups together to get a 'rose-like' constellation.
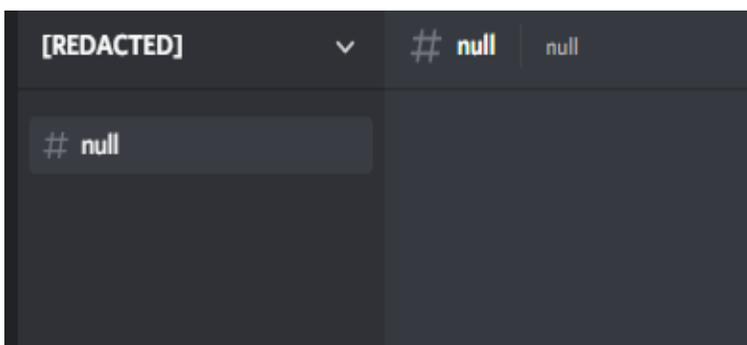

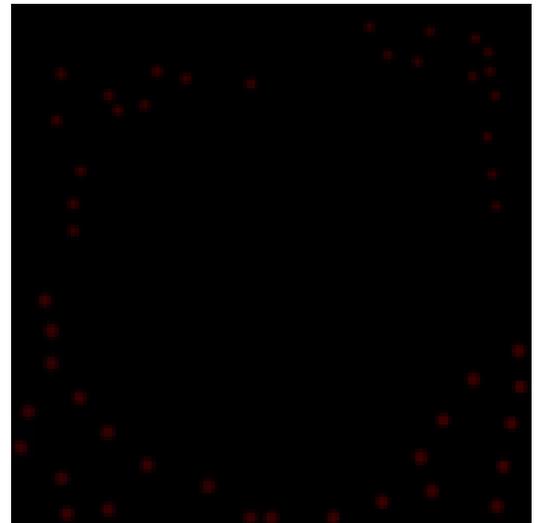

On the 14th of October, the rose channel's title slowly decayed, from "rose" down to "ros" then "ro", "r" then blank. From this the server title was slowly built back up in the same fashion, this time spelling "Archite" before going 'NULL'.
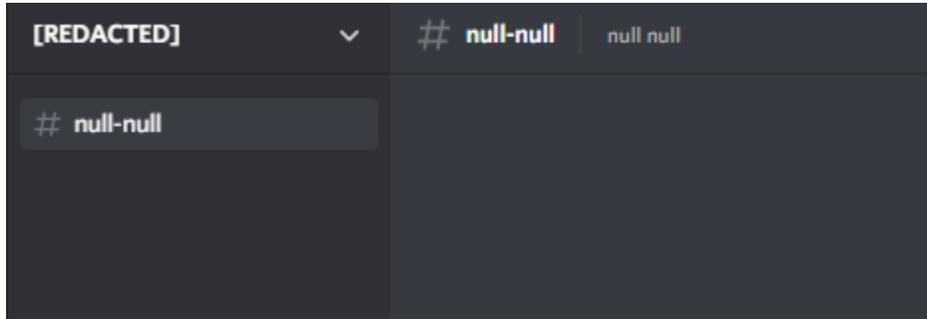

A day later, the 15th of October the channel's name and description changed.

We noticed that the dots we were previously given align with dots on the Archival Mind / Theta image.

Co-pilot: Fuck off, a site breach?! I heard Epsilon-11 are stuck!
Pilot: Stuck?

Co-pilot: I'm serious! Multiple units have gone in but they just can't progress, like they're completely blocked from doing anything no matter how big or small. Like uh getting the lights under control.

Pilot: That can't be the reason we are being brought in.

Co-pilot: Exactly! It can't be! That's why interesting to note that not only are Epsilon-11 there but, Mu-13, Lambda-5, and get this, one person swore he heard someone mention Alpha-1

Pilot: Huh, that's the most ridiculous thing you've said so far. If Alpha-1 were present, that "source" of yours wouldn't be talking about it.

Co-pilot: Yeah but that's besides the point, there's still more MTF teams you'd expect at a breach. Epsilon-11 should be able to deal with most, if not, all things thrown at it, and I forgot to mention the entire facility is surrounded by Nu-7, that they're "expecting an all out war".

Pilot: Maybe they are... you heard the reports. Insurgents in this area are becoming more daring. If only they knew how hopeless it was.

Co-pilot: Hey now, chin up, it's unbecoming of someone like you. I don't know what it was like with your old team, but, for as long as this team is needed, I expect a more lighthearted approach!

Pilot: sigh, if I must...

Co-pilot: That's the spirit!

Co-pilot: Do you think they'll write songs about us, how the daring specialists of-- Technomancer: SILENCE, If you have time to gossip and joke around, you have time to check that tactical report, double, triple, no even quadruple times over, do I make myself clear?

User 1 & 2: Yes Sir

Technomancer: That's what I thought. Ground command, this is a technomancer on approach repeat least Heading Ground Command: Copy that Technomancer, just heading to...

Robotic Voice: Technomancer, your presence is no longer required Technomancer: WHO IS THIS? Ground command repeat last message, (Eerie sound plays) THIS IS TECHNOMANCER, PLEASE COPY GROUND COMA... Oh Jesus Christ.. (Fucking?)-FUCK! (Helicopter beeping)

User 1: SIR THE WHOLE FUCKING TAIL IS GONE, IT'S BEEN FUCKING TORN OFF

Technomancer: If Anyone can hear this we've suffered a major integrity breach; we're going down, let us know the f... [Helicopter Crashes]

We returned back to the F.O.B and went to sleep for the night.

Day 7.5:

The video we got previously had it's description updated, which contained a new video link:
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=D6WSEM4JHm0&feature=youtu.be

This new video contained the Archival Mind set of dots at 1:50, when the unknown voice contacted Technomancer.
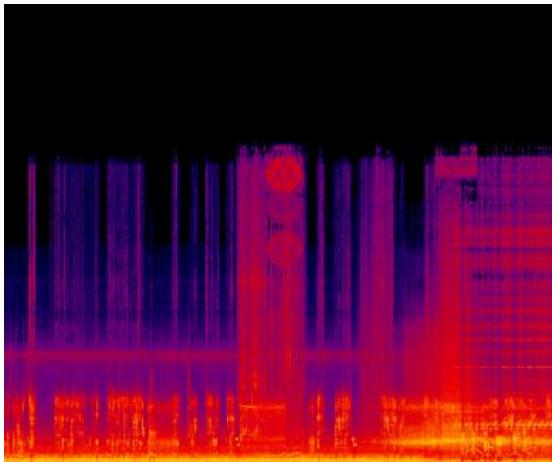

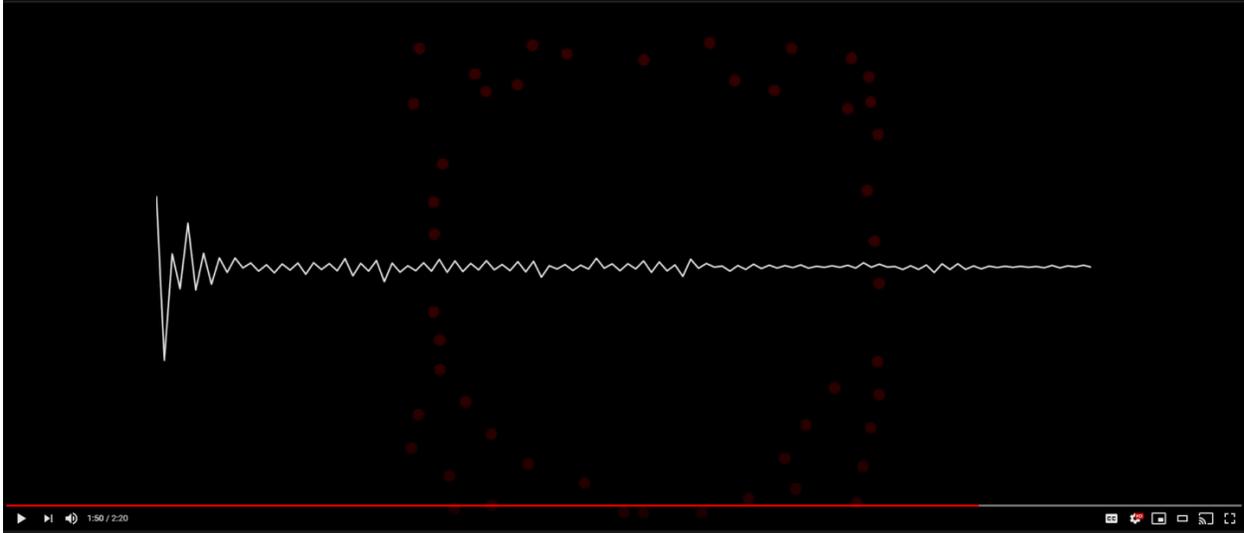

The Spectrogram of the video at this point contained an image of the archival mind.
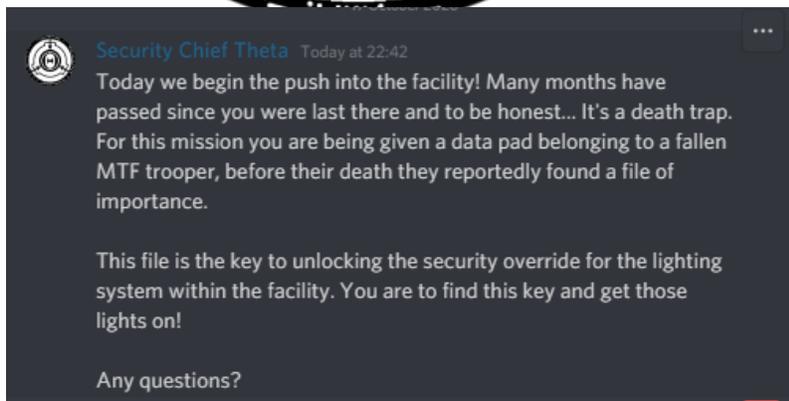

Day 8:

Before the main event started we received a weird ring, the morse code on the outer ring reads:

"The World hides many evils we keep them hidden"

It is unknown where this will lead.

> Security Chief Theta Today at 22:42
> Today we begin the push into the facility! Many months have passed since you were last there and to be honest... It's a death trap. For this mission you are being given a data pad belonging to a fallen MTF trooper, before their death they reportedly found a file of importance.
>
> This file is the key to unlocking the security override for the lighting system within the facility. You are to find this key and get those lights on!
> Any questions?

Ngl I'm still confused about the answers, and still quite mad about them, so I'm just gonna say they made no sense, and we powered on the facility. If you're curious, the answers were "Plastic Bag" and "Violet Rose" they make no sense, idk why so much effort was put into red herrings when the answer itself made little to no sense.

Day 9:

After exploring the facility we came across evidence of a reality shifter and a shadowy figure. Soon a blood orb was found, Viper tried to interact with it before being pulled in, Wanker shot it and was turned into one himself. ShadowKnight was knocked unconscious by a weird mist, meanwhile SimpleWolf found a console which was erasing data. Instead of erasing the data, SimpleWolf had a change of heart, Stating "I HAVE FAITH THIS IS THE RIGHT THING TO DO" as the erasure hit 99%. He was soon shot by O5-3, who was accompanied by Theta. O5-3 stopped the data download and then returned with the remaining squad members, back to base. SimpleWolf and Wanker were presumed KIA, while viper and ShadowKnight are currently MIA.

We are assuming that the Shadowy figure is the watcher, who is a reality shifter.

(We do not talk about the events afterwards)

Day 10:

After the events of the previous day. Theta got a big telling off, and we all got demoted. Our job for the day was to receive transmission from specialized MTF teams in the facility. We received 4 transmissions in total:
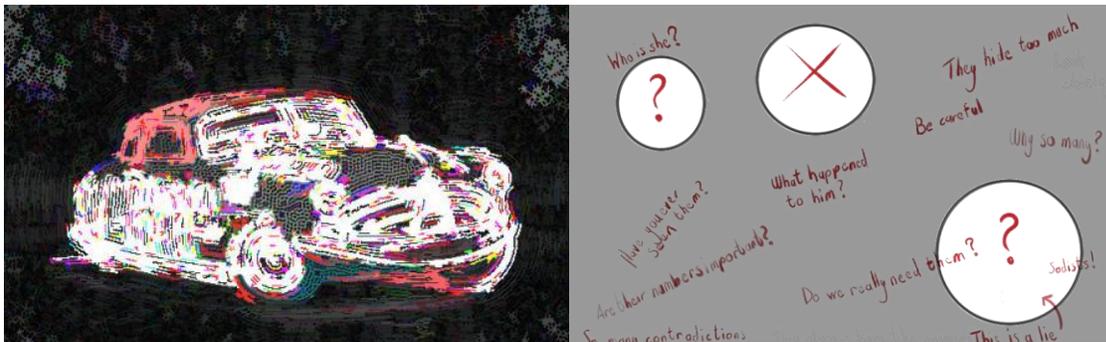

Each piece of information leads to a set of numbers:
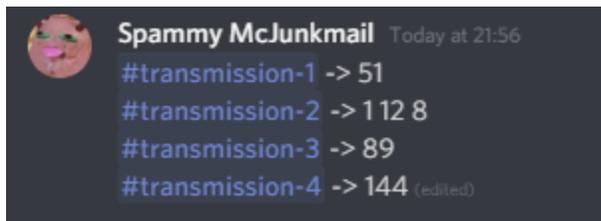

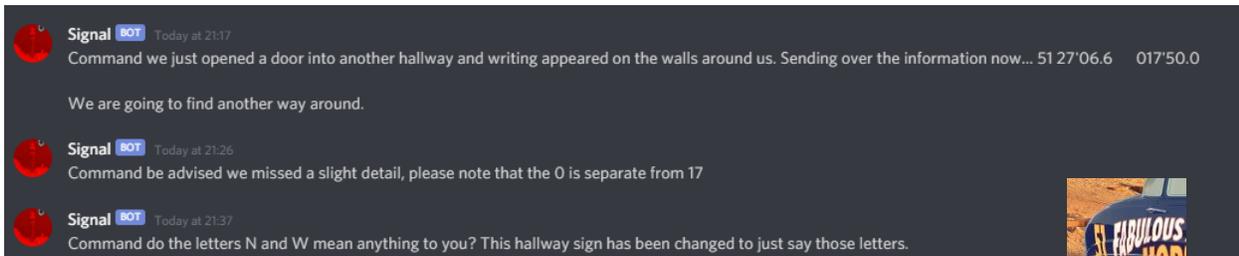

Transmission 1: 51 -> Original Image has the number '51' on the car.
Transmission 2: Incorrect, will get onto this one later.
Transmission 3: 89 -> "DnykDnc=" Vingere(Rose)->Base64->ASCII = 89
Transmission 4: 144 Lead to coordinates of a restaurant with "144" in it.
(Note Theta said they had visited the restaurant in T4 which is located in England. ARG assuming she is British, see below)
Soon after we received another transmission.
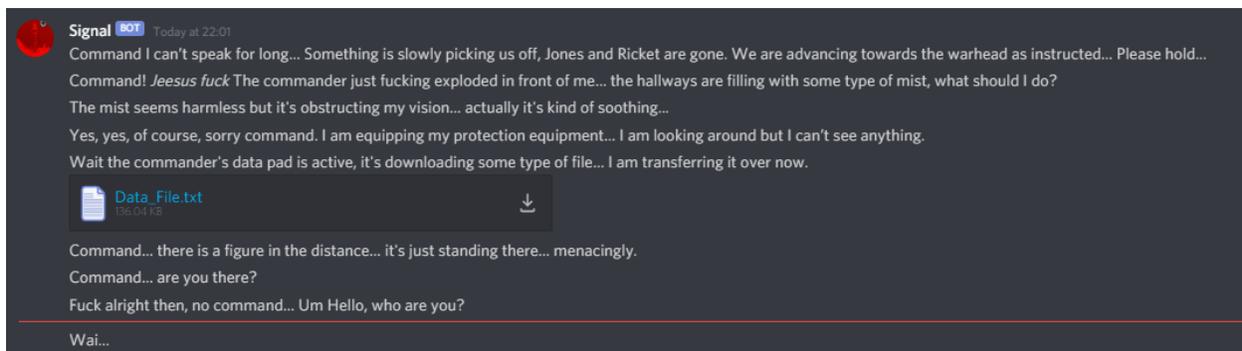

Transmission 5: The .txt could be converted into .wav which revealed the following code: 25606

『Matt』 Today at 22:15
#transmission-1 -> 51
#transmission-2 -> 1 12 8 (7?)
#transmission-3 -> 89
#transmission-4 -> 144
#transmission-5 -> 25606 (edited)
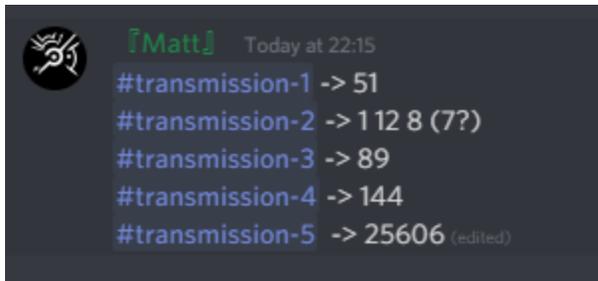

Everything but Transmission 2 was correct, so we went to work doing that.

PatrickTheGuy Today at 22:44
[#transmission-1 -> 51]
[#transmission-2 -> 178]
[#transmission-3 -> 89]
[#transmission-4 -> 144]
[#transmission-5 -> 25606]

Transmission 2: 178 -> 8 is highlighted. 1 is crossed out. 7 is missing. 12 is a lie. In order, this lead to the correct number of 178.

Command... there is a figure in the distance... it's just standing there... menacingly.
Command... are you there?
Fuck alright then, no command... Um Hello, who are you?
Wai...

You are all that I need, thank you kind sir.
May your essence spread throughout the cosmos.

These numbers ended up being a server IP and port, which could join a Minecraft Server. (A bit of a 4th wall break). Which contained a book after tricky parkour, and numbers built around, above, below, North, east, south and west.
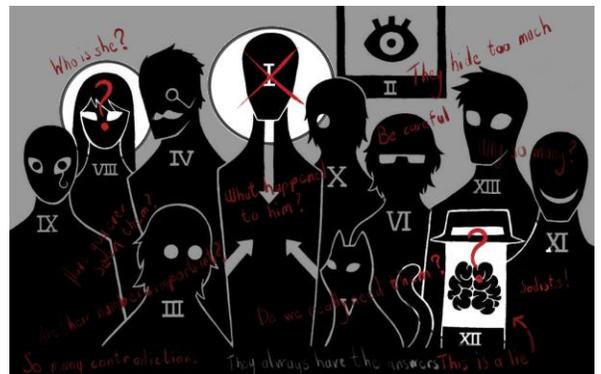

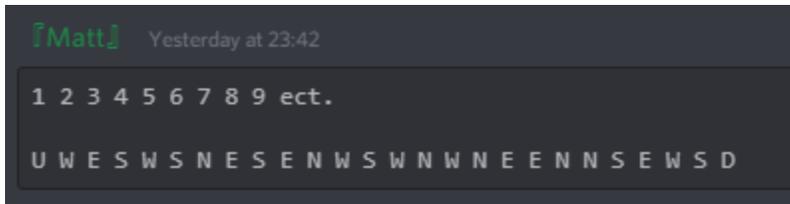

The book had 100 pages, and littered the pages were:

(Complied letters from multiple pages)

These letters spell 'Cavendish' a British family name. With some clues said by Theta earlier, it is presumed that this is Theta's Family name.

Sadly this was not found within the deadline. And as such the following happened on this sad sad day:

O5-3 Yesterday at 23:01
They were close.

O5-2 Yesterday at 23:02
So close, i enjoyed my last game with the close friend.
So @O5-3, what is the proceedings as i really didn't expect this to happen

O5-3 Yesterday at 23:51
@Theta
I must admit. I was impressed at some of the things achieved today.
But
At the end of the day your deadline passed before the last task was completed. Or they put it all together.

Security Chief Theta Yesterday at 23:59
Indeed the deadline was passed and I will always stick to my word. Before anything though I would like to ask a question if that's alright?

O5-3 Yesterday at 23:59
Sure, ask away.

Security Chief Theta Today at 00:02
Did you know these "tasks" would reveal that private IP?

O5-3 Today at 00:03
I did not. Quite the interesting development.

Security Chief Theta Today at 00:07
Then how, these were old tasks that multiple teams had already looked over... how did they get that. Unless out of spite they somehow got the information and decided to feign cooperation just to reveal it? Yet I highly doubt that.
Either way today they acted diligently towards their work and I personally believe they should be reinstated.

O5-3 Today at 00:15
They did. Like I said previously. I was quite impressed at some of the things achieved and accomplished today.
They will be reinstated. There is a task at hand that needs completing and they have shown that they might actually be able to pull it off successfully.
But that is not why we are here right now.
You are.

Security Chief Theta Today at 00:21
Of course, as promised I hereby resign my commission and all the power granted to me. Do as you wish, I will not resist.

O5-2 Today at 00:22
You were a great friend and i'm sorry to see you go .

Security Chief Theta Today at 00:24
Thank you for always being kind to me, even if I can't fathom why.

O5-3 Today at 00:26
As of this moment, you are to be transferred to an undisclosed site, where you will be contained indefinitely.
I'm sorry that you dissapointed.
